An Iraqi citizen lives the trouble of staying away from his homeland

An Iraqi citizen s letter to Mr. Joe Bid

USPA NEWS - H.E. Mr. Joe Biden

President - Elect,
Washington D.C.
United States of America,

Excellency

At the outset, I would like to congratulate you on winning the Presidential Elections, which we have eagerly followed though we are not American Citizens, similar to what we did four years ago when Mr. Donald Trump won that election.

We, Iraqis, were attracted last time around with President Trump's statements about the huge mistake made by the administration of president Bush Jr. committed by its invasion of Iraq, and what happened to The Iraqi people as a result of the unfair policies over the past decades, which brought Iraq to its worst status due to the chaotic, irrational and illogical political decisions. As a seasoned politician who place the interests of United States above all considerations, You are aware of the importance of Iraq in both strategic and economic terms, and this is what distinguishes you from your predecessor.

The other thing that prompted us to follow the American Elections is the legitimate concerns of the whole world about the suspicious nuclear program of Iran and its policy of expansion in Iraq and the region, as well as its categorical rejection of terrorism that were adopted in the past according to what Secretary of State, Mrs. Hillary Clinton, admittance that her administration was the creator of (ISIS) and entrusted the task of caring for, nourishing and equipping it to the evil mullahs regime in Tehran.

Faced with these facts, we found ourselves obliged to watch carefully who will win the post of the President, in order to do everything in our power to prevent the evil from our country and our people, and this is, I am sure you agree with me, a legitimate right. I believe, that this right is not in conflict with any policy adopted by any country, since we legitimately fear of a victory of a possible ally to Iran which stems from our concerns that may lead to the lifting of economic sanctions from the mullahs `regime in Iran, and this means opening the door wide open to the forces of evil to destroy what remains of the civilization and the history of Iraq and the states of the region, thus it will continue the criminal acts that its Militias are committing, seeking to bring about a sectarian demographic change, a religious phenomenon that has a Persian black hatred towards Iraq and the entire Arab nation.

Excellency

We are aware of the extent of the efforts you have made during the election process, but we would like to mention here that we have sent a message to Mr. Trump four years ago asking him to keep evil away from our homeland and our nation, and in accordance with the verse of Quran (Remind others, the reminder will benefit the believers) Therefore, we say:

If Your Excellency seeks to serve best humanity, you may fight terrorism with both its parts: ISIS and the Militias, as both are in fact ONE. Their goal is to destroy life wherever it is, to kill, abort all the elements of progress and return mankind to the ages of ignorance and backwardness.

If Your Excellency seeks goodness, you may give thought to the reality of the political Islam led by Iran, its destructive goals, its backward criminal and atoning schemes, which aim to kill good over evil and make man like animals be led to outmoded beliefs and practice barbaric rituals that have nothing to do with humanity or religions.

If Your Excellency seeks peace, you may stop Iranian expansionist schemes, and restore the rational balance of the States of the region, to preserve their security and unity from the ambitions and frantic interference of this barbaric, aggressive, expansionist regime, which sows discord and division, stokes sectarian conflicts, fuels division in the name of religion to enhance their sect.

If Your Excellency seeks the right, you may strive to end the chaos resulting from the occupation of Iraq, and to eradicate the malignant tumor that afflicted his society, so that the honor of his loyal sons can be rebuilt anew, it will be an active element in the stability and prosperity of the region and the world.

Iraq, as Your Excellency knows, is a country of civilizations and history, and it has scientific capabilities of which qualifies it to actively and seriously contribute to keeping pace with global development and progress and openness to all civilized world countries that believe in a free and dignified life and ending the state of confusion that many countries in the region live in.

Therefore, we hope that Your Excellency may carefully reflect on the ideas mentioned above, because they represent the reality of life in Iraq and the region. Adopting them will be a distinctive mark in your political career. You will be the first American President who understand and contributed to getting Iraq out of its suffering so that it would be a rational partner who would contribute to sowing the seed of stability and goodness in the whole world.

In conclusion, please accept the assurances of my highest consideration and appreciation.
